THEY'VE INVESTED IN OISE

« Oise is located only 1 hour from Paris, thus offering a vast pool of potential clients. But I've been delighted to discover that my offer attracts a diverse clientele: very local, from the Hauts-de-France Region, from Belgium and from the Netherlands. Our clients appreciate our authenticity, the promotion of local produce and our estate's family-friendly atmosphere. The tourist offer of the Pays de Valois region remains rather underdeveloped, which allows for excellent media coverage for those developing an innovative, out-of-the-ordinary service. We're also well accompanied by the department and the region, both very keen on developing tourism. »

Le Bois de Rosoy, 3-star campsite with out-of-the-ordinary lodgings, in Rosoy-en-Multien - Mr Zandvliet

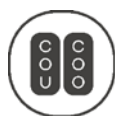

« Oise is a very promising department. Thanks to its location just outside Paris, the presence of such sites as the Parc Astérix theme park, the Beauvais Airport (and its proximity to Roissy-Charles-de-Gaulle), the town of Chantilly, etc., the number of clients remains large all year long. There's very little seasonality thanks to the business travellers and tourists. The development of popular events in Chantilly (the Prix de Diane horse race, sporting events, concerts, the garden festival, etc.) is another big asset for the sector. And finally, the department offers a pleasant living environment. »

Le Chantilly, 3-star boutique hotel in Chantilly
Mr Madliger

« I couldn't have imagined a destination other than the department in which I grew up. Situated between the French capital and the Benelux countries, its geographic location is a big plus, it's a promising territory for investment. Major road, river and rail routes further favour the economy. Our hospitality, our attentiveness and the diversity of our packages and services are also essential for the success of our project. But it wouldn't have been possible without the rich surrounding heritage and the department's dynamic network of tourist structures. »
